

HR Executive Dashboard

HR Analytics Dashboard
Prepared by Sanan Thushanthan June 2026

311

Total Employees

33.4%

Attrition Rate

$69K

Average Salary

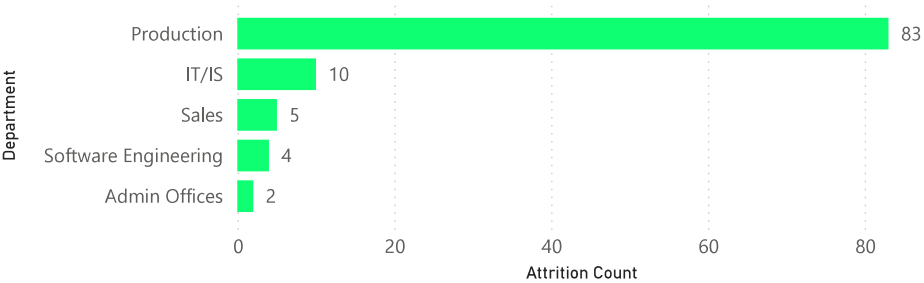

4.11

Average Engagement

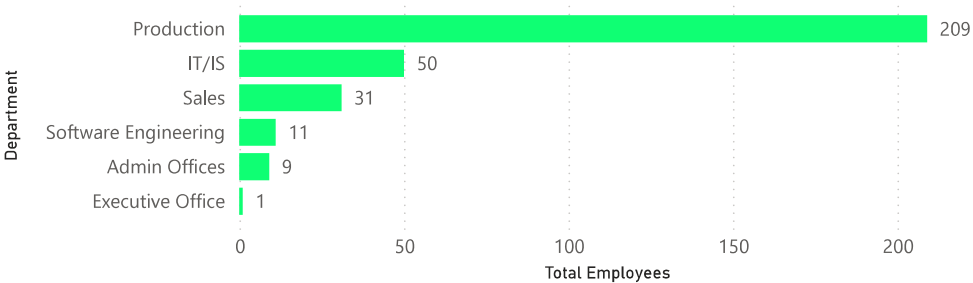

3.89

Average Satisfaction

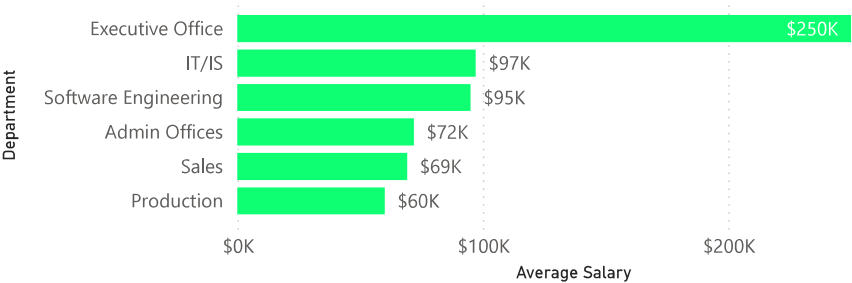

Employee Attrition by Department

Headcount by Department

Average Salary by Department

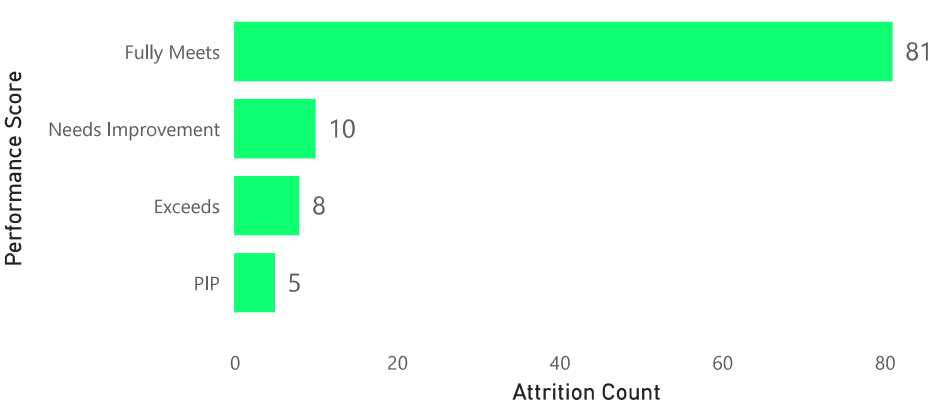

Employee Attrition by Satisfaction Level

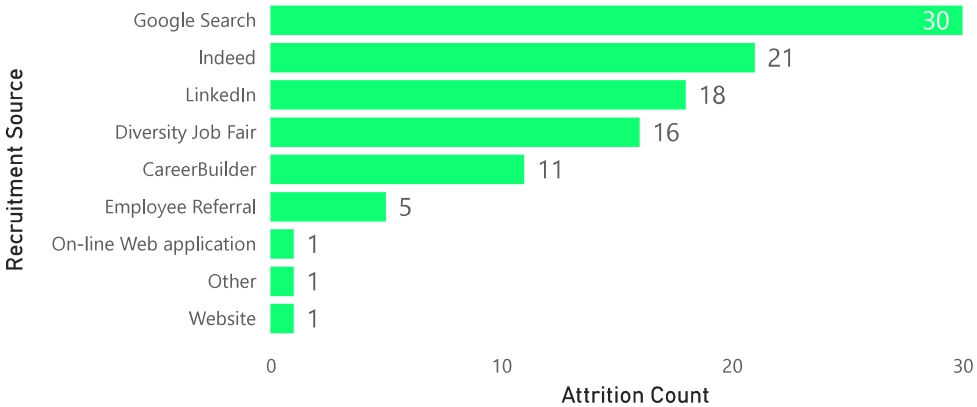

Attrition Analysis

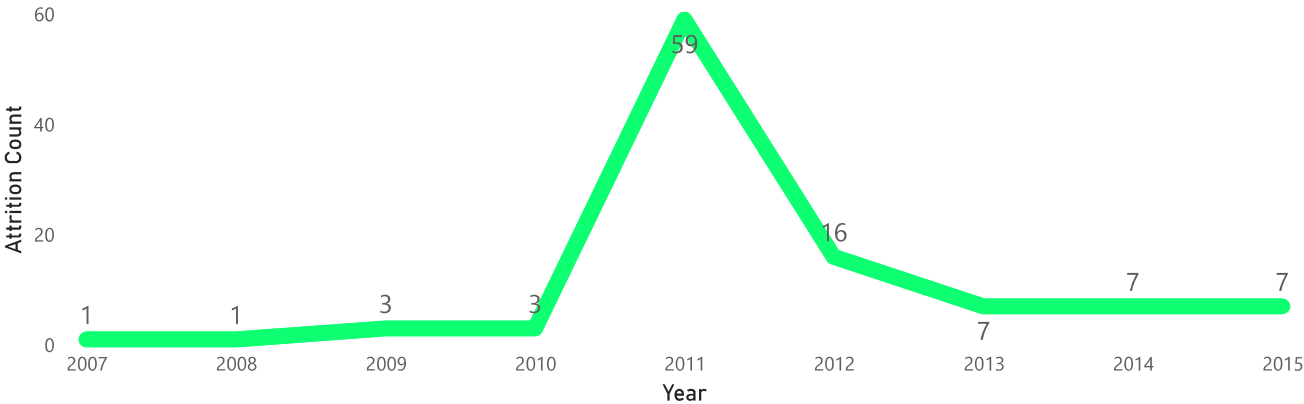

Employee Attrition by Performance Score

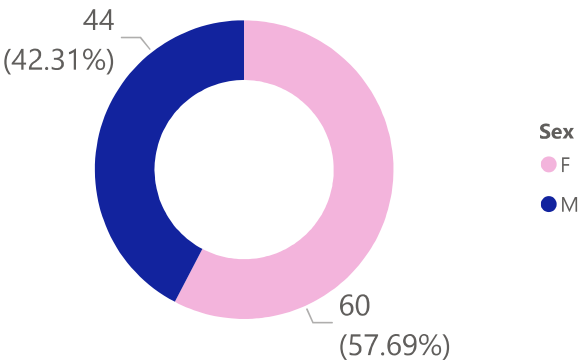

Employee Attrition by Recruitment Source

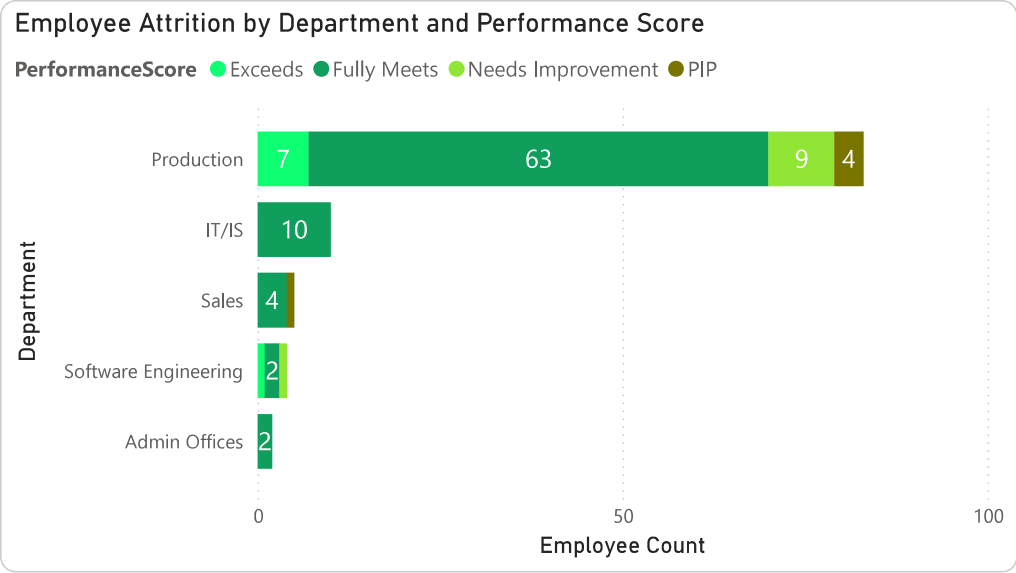

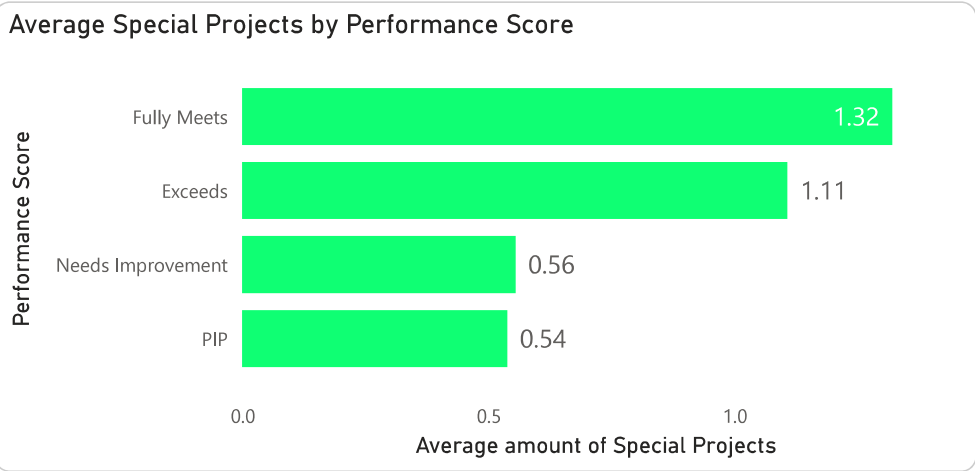

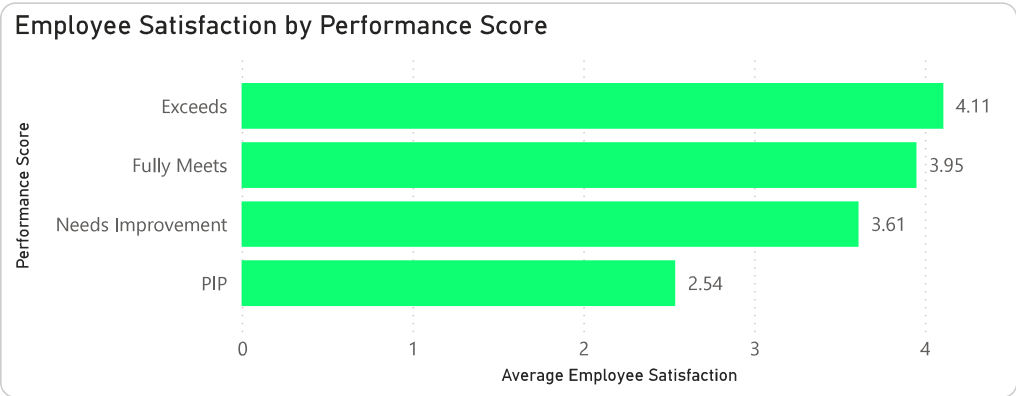

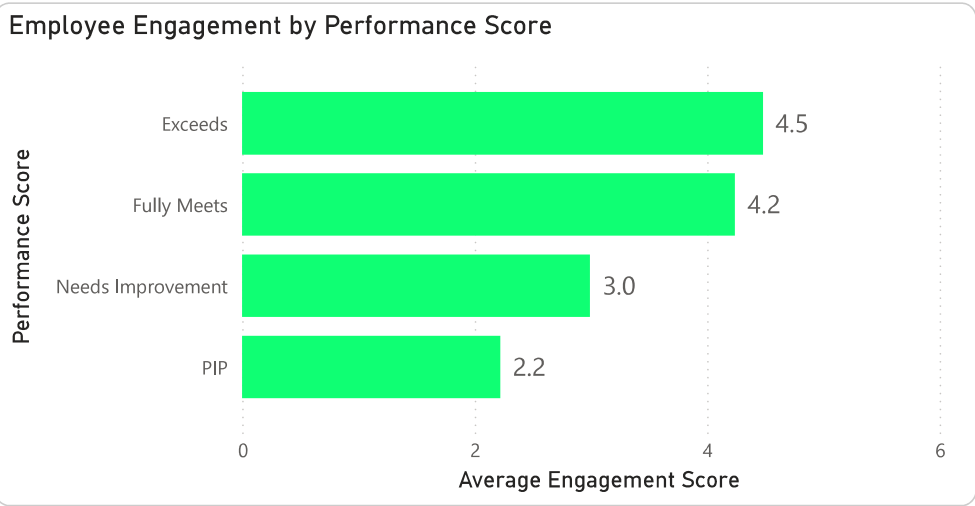

Employee Attrition Trend Over Time

Attrition Distribution by Gender

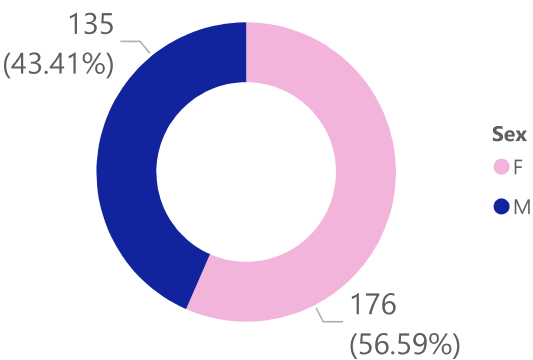

Employee Performance & Engagement

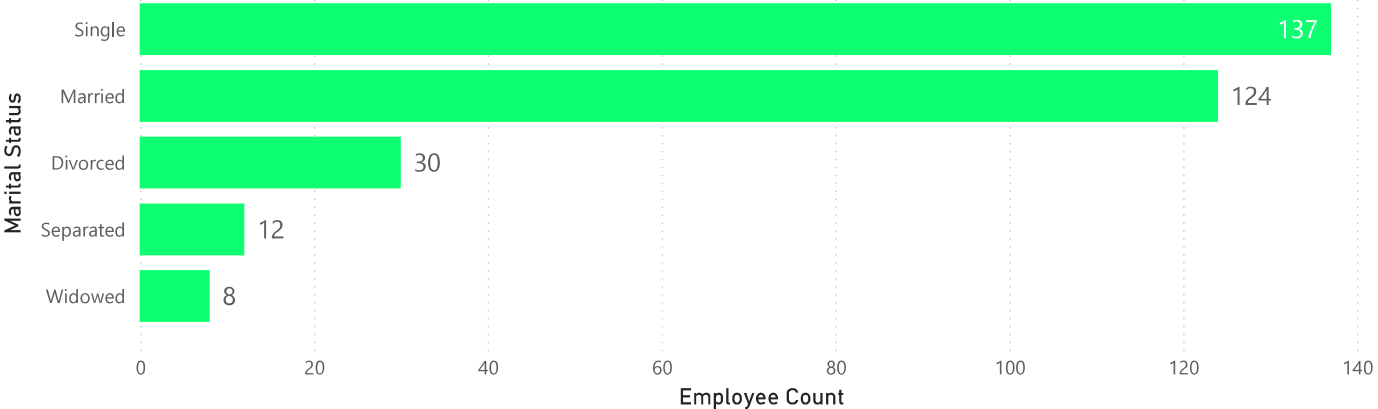

Workforce Demographics

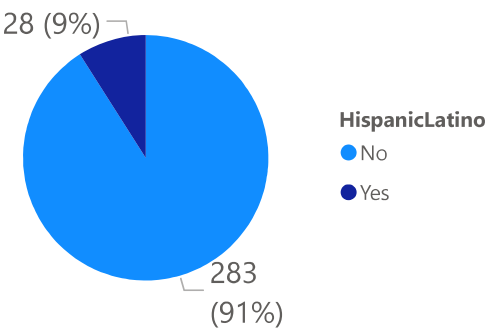

Employee Distribution by Gender

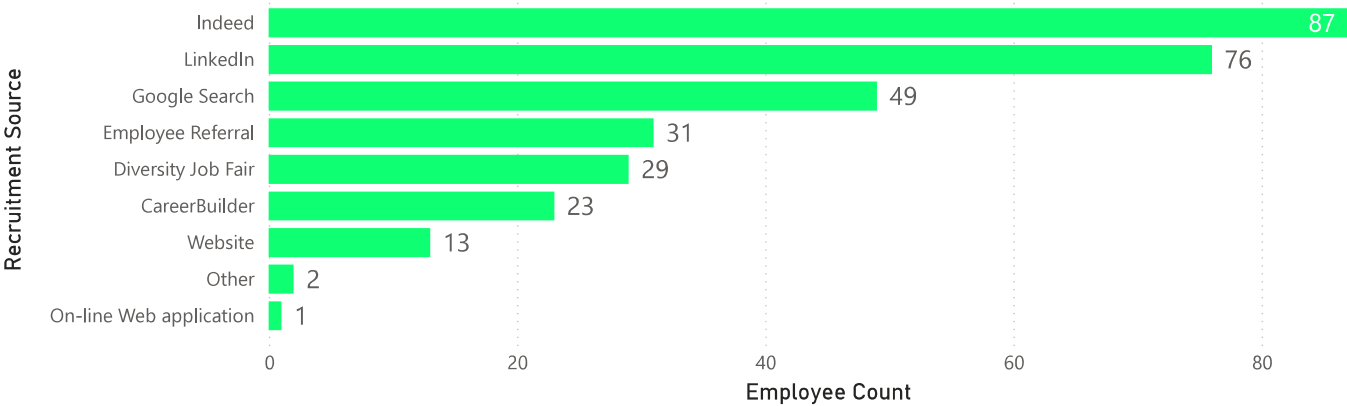

Employees by Marital Status

Workforce Distribution by Hispanic/Latino Status

Employees by Recruitment Source

HR Analytics Executive Summary

Executive Overview

Key Metrics

Total Employees: 311

Attrition Rate: 33.4%

Average Salary: $69K

Average Engagement: 4.11

Average Satisfaction: 3.89

Performance & Engagement Insights

- Employees rated "Exceeds" reported average engagement scores of 4.5 versus 2.2 for employees on PIPs
- Higher performance ratings were associated with higher satisfaction
- Employees rated "Fully Meets" and "Exceeds" received more than twice as many special projects as lower-performing employees
- Engagement appears positively related to performance outcomes

Attrition Insights

- Production accounted for 83 of 104 employee departures (≈80% of total attrition)
- Employees rated "Fully Meets" accounted for 81 of 104 departures (≈78% of total attrition)
- Indeed (87 hires) and LinkedIn (76 hires) were the largest recruitment sources
- Attrition trends peaked during specific periods and then declined
- Workforce demographics indicate a relatively balanced gender distribution, with 56.6% female employees

Recommendations

- Investigate retention challenges within Production
- Continue investing in employee engagement initiatives
- Expand successful recruiting channels such as Indeed and LinkedIn
- Provide development opportunities to retain strong performers
- Monitor diversity and workforce composition metrics regularly